[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN]

A Most Remarkable Robbery

ST LOUIS Jan 31—A daring and successful robbery of a railroad train was committed at Gadshill station on the Iron Mountain Railroad ten miles below here at 4 30 this afternoon As the train which left here at 9 A M came in sight it was signalled to stop The switch was turned and the train ran on the switch track. As the conductor stepped off to ascertain the cause of stoppage he was met by a masked man, a pistol was placed at his head and he was marched off and placed under guard The engineer fireman mail and express messengers and other train men were then seized by five masked and heavily armed men and also placed under guard The robbers then went through the entire train and took from the passengers about $ 00 and a large amount of jewelry from Adams Express messenger over $1 000 and rifled the mail The robbers then left in a southerly direction and after [illegible] the train men the train [illegible] The robbers left a note on the train of which the following is a copy

The most daring robbery on record The south bound train on the Iron Mountain Railroad was stopped here this evening by five heavily armed men and robbed of —— dollars The robbers arrived at the station five minutes before the arrival of the train arrested the agent and put him under guard and then threw the train on the switch The robbers were all large men none being under six feet They were all masked and started in a southerly direction after they had robbed the train all being mounted on fine blood horses. There is a hell of an excitement in this part of the country [Signed] IRA A MERRILL

The robbers offered no violence to any one on the train and did not harm the train men

Game of Billiards for $2,000 and the World's Championship.

Fears of a General Indian Outbreak.

OMAHA Jan 31—Great apprehensions are expressed by owners of large herds of cattle which range between the North and South Platte, and settlers who live near the Union Pacific Railroad and on the Republican river of a general raid from Red Cloud's and Spotted Tail's bands of Sioux and from the Cheyennes Dakotahs Arapahoes and others combined The supply of beef furnished these Indians being nearly or quite exhausted and there being no money with which to purchase more, they must depredate on the settlements or starve. These bands number 30 000 and would laugh at the handful of cavalry at Fort Fetterman and Fort Laramie Large cattle owners and contractors here now corroborate the report that the Indians supplies will soon be exhausted

The Cleveland Fire.

CLEVELAND (Ohio), Jan 31—1 A M—A fire broke out at seven o clock last evening in the fourth story of the wholesale clothing house of Koch Goldsmith Joseph & Co entirely destroying the two upper floors which were filled with goods Loss $15 000 fully insured The fire spread to the wholesale hardware store of Worthington & Co which was entirely destroyed Loss on building $60 000 on stock $225 000 insurance, $175 000 Up to this hour —1 A M —the fire is still burning but is under control The origin is unknown

Trouble Among the Chinese Cutlers at Beaver Falls.

PITTSBURG Jan 30—A serious affray occurred at Beaver Falls to-day among the Chinamen in the cutlery works. As Ah Hoy overseer and interpreter was passing through the office they attempted to follow him but were prevented by a policeman whom they attacked with desperation throwing knives forks pieces of iron and any missile they could find He fought them determinedly without weapons until he secured a club when he finally forced them to retreat, after wounding ten or twelve two seriously The trouble arose from a belief that Ah Hoy had not been making a proper disposition of their funds

Assassinated.

EVANSVILLE, Jan 30—McCoy Casy a wealthy farmer living near Newbergh was murdered yesterday afternoon by an unknown assassin, who shot him down in a public road

WASHINGTON CITY.

General Sherman on Indian Affairs.

WASHINGTON Jan 31—General Sherman was again before the House Military Committee to-day and gave his views with regard to the army in connection with Indian affairs He pointed out on the map a region of country in Texas 100 miles wide and 1 000 miles long comprising half a dozen organized counties which when he passed through two years ago was entirely depopulated the inhabitants having had to abandon their homes on account of constant incursions of Indians He said he had been led to the belief that these Indians were Comanches, but it was pretty well understood that they were Kiowas Cheyennes and Arapahoes who raided from Fort Sill reservation, 80 miles off, penetrating through the military posts and helping themselves to the horses and stock of their Mexican friends rather than to be to the trouble of raising them themselves He gave a graphic account of his interview with Satanta at Fort Sill when he had Santanka Satanta and Big Tree arrested double ironed and sent back to Texas to be tried for an attack upon a wagon train and the murder of twelve out of seventeen teamsters, one of whom was bound to a wagon and burned. Santanka was killed in an attempt to escape but the other two were tried convicted and sentenced to be hanged, but certain humanitarians who regarded murders on the part of Indians as mere exhibitions of emotional insanity had induced Gov Davis who ought to have known better to commute their sentence and some influences at Washington had finally restored them to freedom, and they were now on a reservation again ready to move on their murderous raids If they should scalp Governor Davis next time General Sherman intimated that he would not shed many tears He reviewed the Modoc difficulty and gave his opinion that General Canby was the victim of a temporizing Quaker policy applied to Indians He favored a transfer of the control of Indians from the Interior Department to the War Department and expressed the conviction that the army was more kindly disposed to the Indians than citizens generally, and that if the country demanded extremely charitable treatment for the Indians it could be accomplished by fair through the agency of the army better than by any through the agency of those persons who professed more charity than the soldier but who did not practice so much

Nominations by the President.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Denver jail has fifty eight boarders

Colorado Springs has nearly doubled in population since 1872

Idaho had in her Territorial Legislature on the 1st of January, $7 440 07 She paid out in 1873, $40,054 22

Hon Cornelius Hedges of Helena has been reappointed Superintendent of Public Instruction in Montana by the Territorial Legislative Assembly

On the 28th ult at the residence of James Huddleston, Esq, by James F Brown J P, Mr W T Davis and Miss Sophrona J Brown all of Lane county

Utah mines will turn out this season $10, 000 000 of gold and silver, and next year will exceed California This is the estimate of mine owners and experienced California miners.

Capt Brown, Register of the Land Office at Olympia informs the Transcript of the extension of the Tulalip Reservation so as to include a few small fractions along the shore of Port Susan not before included in the reservation

Something over $1,300 in coin has been raised at Owyhee for the benefit of a young man named August Brill, who had his eyes blown out by the accidental explosion of an old blast of giant powder in the Golden Chariot mine on the 4th of November last

The sale of the Kappton works of the Columbia River Manufacturing Company were sold by Sheriff Whitcomb, at Oysterville on the 28th ult, according to previous announcement. The successful bidders were Messrs Henry L Davis and D W C. Thompson, and the price paid was $23 000 gross.

John Gorman, Assessor and tax-collector of Boise county last year through his deputy Tub Ayers was deficient in his account with the county about $6 000 This fact was not known by Mr Gorman or the County Commissioners until this year, and when the amount was ascertained Mr. Gorman paid up the deficiency

The Owyhee Avalanche says "We understand that a Methodist preacher will, in the course of a few days arrive from the Boise country, for the purpose of inaugurating a regular old fashioned revival and protracted meeting in this Sodom Gomorrah of a town A number of our most hardened sinners are already humming over long-forgotten Methodist songs, and the affair will doubtless prove a big success Silver City is ripe for the first excitement that comes along"

The Astorian says The snow fall in the valley of Gray's river was about twelve inches Some damage was done to the roofs of barns and sheds but no stock was injured so far as we could learn A few head of young cattle were caught in the fall of a roof at the barn of Charles Shoebe a structure 30 by 64 feet Hon S. L Barr's barn about 30 by 50 and several smaller buildings were entirely demolished Some hay was damaged It played hob with the spruce alder and hemlock timber

A correspondent of the Transcript says the number of logs cut on the Snohomish in 1873 was less than usual but the amount will reach 16 000 000 feet. He adds "In the year ending December 31, 1872 I run to Priest Point, and rafted ready for towing upwards of 22 000 000 This don't include what was cut on the Tulalip Reservation, at the mouth of the river which I would judge amounted to about 15 000 000 a year for the last two years The amount of logs cut on this river has not been as low as 6 000 000 any one year since 1864 and for the last five years the average has been over 18 000 000 per year"

The School Superintendent of Lewis county, W T, reports that there are eighteen school districts in that county in fifteen of which schools have been taught from three to six months during the past year There is no uniformity of books Four new school houses have been built at a cost of from $200 to $600 each Two thousand dollars have been paid to the districts from the school fund and most of the districts have added to the funds by subscriptions and special taxes There is no general lack of interest in educational matters but the bad roads and distance to be traveled by children is so great, that not over one half of them receive any real benefit from the school funds The number of children between four and twenty one years old an increase of 111 in the past year

THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

There are many curious comparative facts about the Capitol of which I often think when I walk there It is the most extraordinary composite structure in the world. In the main classic it still contains the crudeness and quaintness of a Flemish Guildhall. Here are Corinthian capitals powerful monoliths as florid as they ever blossomed in Athens and near by are homely capitals devised by Jefferson of corn in the ear the headed sheaf of the wheat and the tawny leaf of the tobacco Parts of the masonry are as formidable as the arches of the Coliseum, yet there is a dome of iron such as no year of our Lord but this could have framed and put together A battery sends a spark of fire like a winged lamplighter from the eye of the dome to the coal pit yet the heathen deities swarm on every ceiling Take the chaplain out of Congress and there is not one Christian symbol in all this marble pile to tell whether the nation worshiped Jove or Jehovah The beautiful clock that in the old hall looks down upon the ghost of [illegible] might have kept time when Caesar was stabbed dead in the Senate House All lands have paid contribution here The statuary was chiseled from quarries by the Arno and the Tiber the stairways were quarried in Tennessee He who cut yonder bas relief fled the infernal machine upon Louis Phillipe The hand that modeled yonder head of Washington felt the wrinkles of Voltaire and measured the lips of Rousseau In this bronze door a Yankee artist's wife standing for her model under the Pincian Hill, represents the Lady Bobadilla, who, perhaps had heard Columbus speak —Washington Outside and Inside by Geo Alfred Townsend

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO Jan 31—There is much excitement in the city to-night about a publication in the Evening Post reflecting infamously upon the DeYoungs of the Chronicle their mother and sisters. The Chronicle to-day continued an editorial attack upon the editor and proprietor of the Post and it is [illegible] retaliated with a column and a half of the most scurrilous matter As soon as the offensive article was discovered Gus DeYoung went to Valentine's printing office and finding the Post proprietor Fitzgerald there proceeded to beat him and gave him a sound drubbing. That done he [illegible] the [illegible] forms [illegible] the type and [illegible] of the workmen arrested for libel to-night the DeYoungs were hunting for B F Napthaly the Post editor but he [illegible] left the city Persons have paid as high as $2 50 for copies of the Post and it was reported that they would get an extra edition printed in Oakland

No verdict yet in the Manning murder case

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 1—Last night the printers of the Evening Post, nine of them who were arrested on complaint of the DeYoung brothers for libel were released on giving bail for $2 000 each. They went to the Post office and commenced to put up the type and forms which Gus DeYoung had knocked about the room with a hatchet The brothers heard of this went to the office locked them in and kept them there till officers came and arrested them again This time their bail is fixed at $5,000 each and none of them have been able to get it to day B F Napthaly editor of the Post was arrested for libel and his bail fixed at $5 000 in default of which he remains in prison

LETTER FROM LEWISTON

LEWISTON Northern Idaho }
25th January 1874 }

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

We rarely see anything in your Webfoot papers about this portion of Uncle Sam's wide domain in fact Northern Idaho appears to be a terra incognita to the world in general At the commencement of the last decade this country was literally a howling wilderness inhabited solely by the noble red man though without the general propensity for other folks hair Here the deer roamed and the coyote loved to dwell both however, getting scarcer and scarcer every day The original attraction to this country was the extreme richness of our mines, fortunes were made in a few weeks so rich and easily worked were they As the early bird catches the worm so did the first prospectors have their choice of rich claims Many thousands of honest (and some dishonest) miners rushed here from all parts principally however from the land of big red apples and glorious California Grub was a dollar per pound in winter too and that winter unparalleled in the memory of that incorrigible old man that never remembered anything (I allude to the oldest inhabitant) Under such a state of affairs the thousands who arrived here expecting to make their pile and didn't do it naturally enough became disgusted and made use of very choice expressions regarding Idaho A God forsaken country was about the mildest expression they could use [illegible] after them was never more exemplified than in this instance instead of numbering a population of 30 000 souls we have about one sixth of that number Here we have the finest climate the best soil splendid water power and no end of forests all crying to be utilized Our soil is everything that could be wished for the average crops of wheat go 40 bushels to the acre oats have gone as high as 70 all the cereals do as well as they do anywhere else There appears to be nothing in the vegetable line we cannot raise Even on Salmon river we [illegible] form [illegible]

Good gristmills are being erected all around A splendid [illegible] the citizens It will [illegible] water to run considerable machinery

Here is a good opening in this town for a tanner All our furniture we have to import from below In fact up to the present day we have been dependent on the Valley country for everything [illegible] However we have met the conclusion that it is never too late to mend and are determined from this time on to [illegible]—have our own furniture factories grist mills and everything else

The Champions of the Red Cross have a Lodge here—also the Independent Order of [illegible] of the frontier belong to these Orders. The [illegible] keepers [illegible] have let [illegible] their occupation [illegible] but the [illegible] in general are much the better off We [illegible] the usual shirt and pants now parading the street in the customary suit of black [illegible] no small [illegible] of themselves and generally respected—in the old drinking times none so poor to do them honor

We read with surprise and indignation in a Portland paper they call the Bulletin of the 11th inst., the following paragraph, which is certainly not calculated to do us much good

"The sufferings of the settlers in northwestern Idaho prove to be much greater than believed One thousand families estimated to number 4 000 persons are actually suffering from want of food The famine has been brought on by the grasshopper plague, which has utterly destroyed the crop in that section of the country"

Any newspaper man on this coast not a natural born idiot knows that the past season's crop up here was just wonderful Never had the Goddess Ceres smiled so bountifully Our farmers have on hand over 200 000 bushels of grain. Never before was food so plentiful Does the genius who penned the above know that the [illegible] grasshopper [illegible] Why, we can seldom find sufficient for fish bait If we get more like that we shall advise him to drop that mighty instrument of little men and seek a more congenial situation—that of a footman, for instance JOHN SMITH

AN INDEPENDENT MOVEMENT

The following call addressed to the tax payers of Douglas county, issued by the Farmers Club held at Roseburg January 24th 1874 we find published in the columns of the Plaindealer [illegible] That paper endorses the movement in an editorial of considerable length and offers its services to the people as an independent advocate The call is as follows

A CALL

To the Tax Payers of Douglas County, issued by the Farmers Club held at Roseburg Jan 24 1874.

WHEREAS Through political leaders and rings controlling members of both parties the Agricultural Mechanical and Laboring interests of Douglas county have been criminally neglected and outrageously taxed and the will of the people through petition and otherwise expressed shamefully disregarded their treasury depleted and heavy obligations contracted in open disregard of just economy and in direct violation of the constitution and law therefore be it

Resolved That, as Farmers Mechanics and Laboring Men we cut ourselves loose from all party obligations in local affairs and rally under a banner broad enough to embrace all who favor just laws and oppose cliques rings, combinations of monopolies extravagance and disregard of economy in County State and Nation

Resolved That we look upon the present mode of choosing candidates through nominating conventions each party acting separately, managed and controlled as they are by cliques and rings as the foundation of our political corruption And are convinced that it is a buying bartering and selling system which forces honest men to the rear while [illegible] of rings and unscrupulous politicians are pushed directly to the front

Therefore as farmers mechanics and laboring men of all classes we call upon the tax payers of Douglas county to meet in their respective precincts, on Saturday the 21st day of February 1874 to elect delegates to attend a County Convention to be held in Roseburg, on Saturday the 28th day of February 1874 to select from the tax payers irrespective of party candidates for all county offices Each precinct will be entitled to one delegate for every fifteen votes and one delegate for each fraction over eight votes

THE POLICE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

PORTLAND Jan 31st, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN,

In a recent number of the OREGONIAN I saw a report "with a stump speech in its belly," entitled "the Police Commissioners Report" The title is faulty. It should have been "A report to divert public attention from Police matters" The indignation which the Chairman of the Board of Police Commissioners manifests at the cases of bribery which have occurred in our city has furnished us with cheap and rare amusement But we should not be disposed by any manner of means to accept this as a full condonation of the enormous ravages the Police Department has made upon the pockets of the tax payers of this city For one I would not be disposed to pardon the rascal who stole my potatoes simply because he was voluble and ready on the accusation of another chap who had stolen my turnips

Besides this is not the first time we have witnessed the unctuous indignation of this venerable public functionary We all remember that about four years ago when Mr Hallock was in the Council and when a bill for board of prisoners amounting to nearly $500 per month was presented how indignant he became at such an enormous bill upon the tax payers declaring, if we recollect rightly that the charge so [illegible] at public expense should [illegible] to the [illegible] or left to starve upon the streets But we also can remember that he was also in the Council when the bills of the present Chief of Police kept swelling from $200 gradually up to $600 per month for board of prisoners and that he [illegible] as a sheep before its shearers Remembering all this we are compelled to laugh at the indignation of our friend [illegible] which he hopes to divert public attention from the swelling items of police expenditures And we [illegible] leave also to doubt the [illegible] of the figures of the Police Commissioners report as well as the lofty indignation at bribery What the tax payers of this city want to know is the total cost of the police [illegible] Your paper Mr Editor [illegible] enterprising in this respect It has given [illegible] And while you [illegible] have that $6 000 bill [illegible] of infamous [illegible] cases also completely overhauled So that we [illegible] find out just how large a [illegible] bill was paid by the tax payer of the city for the [illegible] of the Police Department [illegible] be hoped that you will [illegible] to a reasonable public interest in this matter

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYE.

The old problem that has engaged the best minds of all civilized countries and of which no satisfactory solution even in theory has been reached has taken on a new phase in England. The trades unions in their various forms having extended into every industry of the country the employers seem to have reached the conclusion after long contending singly against the Associations that their only hope of making themselves masters of the expenditures of their own means is in meeting combination with combination. Since it seems inevitable that the relations between capital and labor are no longer to be adjusted upon the principle of mutual agreement but compulsion is the acknowledged basis of such adjustments the employers reason that they must place themselves upon the best war footing possible and that there is strength in union. So they form employers associations to counteract the associations of the employes. They are to have the support of each other in case they wish to strike for more hours or less wages just as their operatives have the support of their entire guild when they strike for less hours and more wages.

This movement has been fairly inaugurated in England. The manufacturers are rapidly effecting a combination among themselves, similar in many respects to the trades' unions with their central or head committees, and all the other machinery of an efficient organization and with provision for combinations, &c, to enable members of the union to stand out against the demands of employes.

The American people are noted for readiness with which they accept every novelty in the shape of a society for mutual relief and benefit. It is fair to presume that unless this plan of employers unions shall soon meet with some very decided rebuff, it will be transplanted to this continent and, for a time at least will flourish, unless the great diversity of interests and sharp competitions among American employers shall prove sufficient to preclude the idea of their uniting for any purpose.

This remedy may prove as effectual as its advocates think it will. It may be demonstrated that the evil of compulsory relations between employer and employe can be cured by a combination to resist force with force. We doubt it. The question is thus reduced down to one of superiority between antagonists, and is so recognized by both parties, instead of being one in which each party has rights which the other is bound by sentiments above the fear of brute force to respect. The extremes to which the Unions have carried their measures for the protection of their members, when in the wrong as well as when in the right, have tended to bring about the very result which they, least of all classes, can afford to meet, namely, a state of declared hostility between themselves and the men whose capital furnishes them employment and wages. The formation of this new combination of the employers will remove the last tie that bound the employer and the operative together. Henceforth it is open warfare on both sides. The operatives are the more numerous, and will prevail in any given riot but in the end, the power of the Government being on the side of the orderly class, will put down these disturbances, as it always has done and the question will be, who can longest stand the suspension of operations consequent upon the strike? It is not difficult to answer this question without waiting for the actual test. The capitalists can better afford to provide a "relief" fund adequate to such an emergency than can the operatives. But the problem will be no nearer to an equitable adjustment when one side or the other is starved into submission. This union to resist a union may be justified in some measure by the circumstances, but so far as concerns the ultimate settlement of the relations between labor and capital on a fair basis it will prove a hindrance rather than an assistance.

HOW WILL THEY EXPLAIN IT

An exchange calls attention to the inconsistency of the Senate in being thrown into a panic by the discovery that Caleb Cushing had written a letter of introduction to Jeff Davis for a friend, in 1861 when the nomination of Hughes as United States Judge for Virginia had just been confirmed. It is true that Hughes was recently the nominee of the Republican party for Governor of Virginia but it is also true that he was an original secessionist, did all in his power to precipitate the secession of Virginia from the Union and supported the rebellion with whatever influence he possessed, till its final collapse. Only after the war was over did he come to the conclusion that it was not right to destroy the American Government and build up a slave oligarchy on its ruins. Indeed, so bad had been his record during the war that many of the Republicans of Virginia refused to vote for him against Gen Kemper in the late election on account of his course in that trying time. Still he was confirmed as a Judge of the Federal Courts and Cushing whose offense was that he wrote a letter containing some sentences which could be construed as favorable to the Southern cause was forced to withdraw in order to avoid rejection amidst a scare in the Senate such as had never before been witnessed. This point is well taken [illegible] was not so much in rejecting Cushing as in confirming Hughes. We [illegible] oblivion in every way possible [illegible] ect of the civil war for [illegible] always believed that [illegible] prompted by what they respectively deemed to be just [illegible] and that one side was about as conscientious as the other. But in our zeal to forget we should not forget to exercise our common sense. Underlying the war were certain legal doctrines contended for by the North and South respectively as the fundamental principles of our Government. The questions were mainly questions of law, of constitutional powers, at the outset, and out of a difference upon these questions grew the war. A lawyer who believed in the destructive theories of the secession school fourteen or fifteen years ago and who had sufficient legal learning to have his opinions well grounded in the legal maxims of his school is not likely to have changed very much in his theories whatever he may have done in practice and we should not expect his decisions on the bench to be [illegible] his views as a lawyer. [illegible] the Federal judiciary is not just the place in which to put such persons in order to testify our oblivion of the past. But we should like extremely well to be informed of the kind of logic the Senate [illegible] to justify its course toward Mr Cushing who notwithstanding his supposed State rights theories, tendered his services to the Government to help put down the rebellion while it confirms Mr Hughes who [illegible] [illegible] Republicanism.

WHEAT AND FLOUR EXPORTS

The following statistics of wheat and flour imported into Great Britain from Russia and the United States from June 1 1866 to September 30 1873, are furnished by the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington and is therefore wholly reliable. It is a very interesting comparison inasmuch as Russia has been the principal source of supply of bread for England. The amount furnished by the United States is now considerably in excess of that furnished by Russia.

	Cwt	Bushels
Wheat from Russia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Flour from Russia	[illegible]	[illegible]
Total bushels		[illegible] 313 [illegible]
Wheat from the U S	[illegible]	1 092 [illegible]
Flour from the U S	[illegible]	[illegible] 004 00
Total bushels		[illegible] 465 182

The bushels of wheat are computed at sixty pounds the bushel. The bushels of flour are computed on the basis of 168 pounds of wheat to one hundred weight of flour.

The Douglas Monument Association memorializes the Legislature of Illinois for an appropriation of $50 000, to aid in completing the monument to the "Little Giant" Stephen A Douglas died June 3 1861. Even while his body lay in state at Bryan Hall there was circulated a paper signed by Richard Yates Governor of Illinois and many other prominent citizens, pledging a fund in aid of his widow and for the erection of a monument over the remains of the dead statesman. Since that time nothing has been done until within the past month if we except the passage of an act in 1865 authorizing the Governor of the State to pay $25 000 to Mrs. Douglas for the lot in which the remains were interred. A plan for the proposed monument was recently adopted. The height is to be 100 feet diameter of the circular base, 52 feet, diameter of tomb 20 feet. In the tomb is an arched chamber ten feet square in which stands a white marble sarcophagus, containing the casket and remains. It is probable that the bill making the appropriation of $50,000 for which the petitioners pray will be passed at the present session of the Legislature.

The fierce indignation with which the Supervisors of Kane county, Illinois declined to accept Mr Farnsworth's back pay gift of $1,124 was duly applauded, and Mr Farnsworth was not returned to Congress. The money has been lying in the National Bank where Mr F placed it, and it has been a temptation so sore that it was only by the exercise of most saintly patience and self denial that the board contrived to abstain from grabbing it. They have been thinking the matter over during all these months and have finally concluded to accept the gift with accrued interest. Accordingly, the money has been paid into the county treasury. Thus the native hue of the average supervisor's resolution is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought. Farnsworth is out just $1 124 and out of Congress also while that burning rebuke of last year still stands recorded against him. This is a bad showing for Kane county.

The general tone of our Eastern exchanges on the repeal of the salary grab, is that the Forty third Congress made a virtue of necessity. The repealers get little credit; they couldn't expect much when confessions like Senator Matt Carpenter's—that four fifths of the people of Wisconsin demanded and expected the repeal—were common. The St Louis Democrat thinks the repeal indicates that our fellow citizens in Congress have found out which side of their bread is buttered. The Boston Advertiser sensibly says: "The salary grab was peculiar only in its grossness. In other respects it was typical of far too large a proportion of national legislation in these days." [illegible] add: A single measure of reform will not propitiate the confidence of the people. The demand for more of the same sort is impressively earnest.

In a message to the Illinois Legislature accompanying a memorial of the Board of Trustees of the Antietam National Cemetery asking an appropriation from the State of Illinois Governor Beveridge says: "As a soldier having witnessed the bravery, sufferings and devotion of comrades in arms [illegible] the Executive of a loyal and patriotic State I urge the appropriation asked in this memorial lest it may be said Illinois is forgetful of her sons and slow to do honor to her fallen heroes." The cemetery is to cost $100 000 and Illinois share amounts to $[illegible]. The lower house has [illegible] to pass the bill appropriating this sum.

The San Francisco telegrams published in another column relate how DeYoung, of the Chronicle, castigated [illegible] editor of the [illegible] and spoiled the office of that sheet because the Sun was [illegible] [illegible] DeYoung's [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] B[illegible]thers—[illegible] her aquatic sports—[illegible] of New York. He was appointed Chairman of the Committee on [illegible] Navigation the other day. The New York [illegible] is disposed to regard the appointment as an excellent joke. It says the Bigun [illegible] know something about boats, but they have never been mentioned in the mercantile community, and the only thing that could be said of Barney when he canvassed the district in opposition to an excellent citizen Mr. Choate, was that he pulled a good oar and had the Custom house on [illegible] nation.

In the Senate, January 14th, Mr Hitchcock presented the memorial of Benjamin Holladay praying to be indemnified for losses to property sustained by Indian depredations while transporting the mails on the overland mail route between Missouri River and Salt Lake City [illegible] from 1860 to 186[illegible] which was referred to the Committee on Claims. Senator Mitchell is a member of the Committee.

It is now said that Miss Nellie Grant is engaged to a son of one Sir George Rose Sartoris an Admiral in the British navy. Sir George [illegible] Sartoris has the [illegible] privilege of [illegible] [illegible] will. Altogether the match [illegible] more eligible than an alliance with [illegible] associated with fat Customs fees.

[illegible]

The [illegible] Treasurer of the [illegible] reports that [illegible] to $[illegible] for the [illegible] on the [illegible]—[illegible] to January 17th.

The Chicago Tribune is responsible for this one: Caleb Cushing [illegible] a child probably thought it was hard to learn his letters. As a man he thinks it [illegible] much harder to have such [illegible] to learn them and tell the Senate about them.

The Illinois Board of Railway and Warehouse Commissioners cost that State no less than $52 000 last year.

The Boston Post lays itself liable for a suit by the noble army of honest men who are sacrificing everything in their efforts to serve us in Washington when it says that all they really need to do to get in is to take their gold to Congress and be judicious about it.

Ada county Idaho has levied a tax of 20 mills on the dollar to run herself this year.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 2 1874

CITY.

SINGULARLY SHAPED ROCK.—A few days since we were shown by a gentleman of this city a singularly shaped stone which he found more than five years ago in Brazil. The only remarkable thing about the stone is its form and the locality in which it was found. The gentleman who discovered it was leading a surveying party under the auspices of the Brazilian government in the year 1868. The party had penetrated inland a distance of over 90 miles from the seaboard and had just reached the Province of St Paul near the base of the Cordillera. [illegible] the mountain torrent, the gentleman discovered a white stone lying in the bed of the stream. He dismounted and picked it up. It was of the most obdurate granite weighing about three and a half pounds and as perfectly spherical as a billiard ball. The stone was exactly the size of a six pound cannon ball. Where the party crossed the stream it was only about two miles from its source so that it would be impossible for the action of the water to have ground the stone round while traveling only that distance along the bed. Besides all that, there was no granite in fifty miles of the locality. The region was totally uninhabited even by Indians. Every appearance of the stone indicated that it was fashioned by human hands, and not by chance or the action of heat or water. When and by whom it was worn round and how the stone came to be deposited in that little stream, is one among the thousand mysteries of that land of wonders.

HUNTSMAN STAY THY HAND.—A length the time has arrived when our stalwart Nimrods can no longer shoulder deadly rifle and stalk forth to slaughter the nimble-footed deer or scatter death and destruction among the aquatic birds in these latitudes. With the advent of February the Game Law of Oregon came again into force and it would be well for our sportsmen to note the fact. The act of the last Assembly makes it unlawful to kill or offer for sale any deer, moose or elk, during the months of February March, April May and June. It is unlawful to kill or offer for sale any wild swan, mallard duck, summer or wood duck, widgeon duck, sprig tail duck teal duck, spoon bill duck, or black duck, during the months of April, May June and July except that farmers are permitted to kill geese or ducks in said months if necessary to protect their growing crops. It is unlawful to kill or offer for sale any grouse pheasant or sage hen during the months of April, May and prior to the 15th day of June of each year or any quail or partridge during the months of April, May, June and July. It is also unlawful to take or kill, at any time, any elk or deer for the sole purpose of obtaining the horns or skin of the same. After the 1st inst it will cost twenty dollars to kill a deer moose or elk for the first offense, to be doubled for each subsequent offense. It is also contrary to law to put any poison, charm or drug in any of the waters of Oregon for the purpose of catching or killing fish.

HOSPITAL AND ORPHANAGE.—In speaking of this commendable enterprise, the Churchman says: On a recent visit to the proposed site for the Hospital we found that the location had been well chosen and a beautiful piece of ground secured. It is distant about half a mile from the Grammar School, and will be very easy of access when the proposed street improvements are completed, while it is sufficiently retired from the business portions of the city and occupies a high and very healthful place. The supply of water for the buildings and grounds will be furnished from a well by a wind mill or may be had from the Balch creek main which passes within a few hundred feet of the grounds. Though yet in its inception this enterprise has met with many kind and encouraging words and voluntary subscriptions are beginning to come in from different quarters. We would like to have it known that these are now in order, as it is proposed to begin the building as soon as the spring season is sufficiently advanced.

UNDER BONDS.—Jos. Howard, who is charged with the larceny of a coil of rope and other articles from the ship Tongoy, was arraigned in Police Court last Saturday morning. He had all along strenuously insisted on his innocence, and declared his desire to have an impartial and thorough examination. At his urgent solicitation, the case was continued for several days, as he desired to have a certain attorney defend him. When, at length, the case was called he waived an examination giving as a reason that he knew the Court would hold him to answer the charge in any event. The Court fixed his bonds at $250. He was unable to furnish the required bail, and was committed to the County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. His sojourn will be brief, as Circuit Court will convene next week.

ON THE KALAMA ROUTE.—The steamer Annie Stewart has been placed on the route between Portland and Kalama in place of the Fannie Troup. Yesterday the former boat was brought up from the bone-yard to the wharf and will start down the river this morning and hereafter make regular trips daily. The Fannie Troup will continue to run until further notice, between Portland and Monticello, except on Saturdays when she will make a trip to Cathlamet. She will leave here on Tuesday morning for Monticello.

SUDDENLY ILL.—Early on Sunday morning—about 3 o'clock—a man, giving his name as John Higgins was found on the streets beastly intoxicated. He was removed to the city jail and locked up. About 5 o'clock after he began to sober up he was taken with very violent cramps and it was thought he would not survive. Dr Strong was sent for and after some time relieved the man. After several hours, Higgins had so far recovered that he was able to walk around again.

FIRST GRAND BALL.—We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the first grand ball given by the McMinnville Hook and Ladder Company No. 1 which will be given at Mowhawk Hall, McMinnville, on Friday evening 20th inst. The following are the committees: Reception, Louis Dielschneider Henry A Brown, Geo W Jones. Invitation, Dr H V V Johnson, T B Handley, C J Handley, Geo W Snyder, B Albee Benj Zumwalt and Emil Bones.

GUILD MEETING.—The regular meeting of the Church Guild of Portland will be held this Monday evening in Trinity Chapel at 7 o'clock.

GRAND PAGAN WORSHIP.

KNEELING AND PRAYING BEFORE IDOLS.

Yesterday was the great annual festival (not New Year) when the Chinese are expected to offer up their devotion to the great Buddha and his disciples and for that purpose the Chinese population of this city rented a large storeroom on Second street, between Stark and Washington. Their regular Josh House being too small for the occasion. The festivities were ushered in at noon yesterday by the sounding of gongs and pummeling of cow hide drums, all of which attracted a large crowd of outside barbarians but none were admitted as there was but scanty room for the faithful. [illegible] viding ourselves with pencil and paper and showing our credentials as reporters we were one of the privileged few of the outside barbarians permitted to enter. The room was decorated with symbolic pictures. An altar had been erected and was laden with all kinds of Chinese delicacies. A large quantity of incense was kept constantly burning back of the altar. Behind them [illegible] carved out of wood but arrayed in gorgeous Chinese silk robes was seated upon his throne in front of whom one of the Chinese priests was kneeling and continually praying. The rest of the Chinese, the number of several hundred, stood around, some occupying their time by drinking tea, others by talking. In the back room we noticed a couple of additional idols which looked very much as if they had been carved by some Alaska Indians. The atmosphere being somewhat heavy and the odor not very pleasant for our respiratory organs we made our exit, thinking what a field there is in our midst for Christian missionaries.

Holidays over—B L Stone is offering a full assortment of jewelry at a reduction.

The steamers Otter [illegible] and Idaho formerly of the North Pacific Transportation Company's line are now the property of the Pacific M S S Co.

—A letter addressed to Mrs Hepburn Glen Ella, Oregon (probably meant for Glencoe) was held for postage in San Francisco Postoffice on the 28th ult.

"You had better stop that ad as I have received more letters in answer to it than I can attend to" was the order from an advertiser yesterday. Further proofs of the benefits of advertising.

The San Francisco Call of the 25th ult says "Madame Anna Bishop in leaving the hall on Thursday night fell and hurt her ankle. The injury will compel her to keep her room for a short time."

Street cleaning was never so animated as at present—even the back streets are receiving attention. Little slips of paper, with the advice to attend to such matters promptly, is what caused the activity in cleaning up.

The Eastern paper mail per Oriflamme was considerably less than the previous invoice and the clerks at the Postoffice managed to get it distributed within sixteen hours after the arrival—or about eight hours actual work.

If a glass stopper won't move hold the neck of the bottle before a flame, or warm it by taking two turns of a string and see saw, the heat engendered expands the neck of the bottle before a corresponding expansion reaches the stopper.

JUSTICE SUMMARILY ADMINISTERED.

A few days since we gave our readers an account of the garroting of a farmer on the streets of Astoria by the notorious "H—l Roaring or Fighting Murphy," assisted by "One-Eyed Kelley." The orderly and peace-loving citizens of that place indignantly resented this gross infraction of law by causing these worthies to be locked up. Subsequently, a charge of highway robbery was preferred against the guilty parties. Justice, which often sleeps was not caught napping at her post this time, and with that sword and pair of balances, she went lively after Murphy and his pal with the green shutter over the right optic. The Circuit Court was in session at the time, and the offenders were interviewed by seven gentlemen, composed of respectable tax-payers and residents of the county of Clatsop. True bills were returned, and the matter referred to twelve other persons who thought a change of locality would conduce to the good health of the defendants, and a change of residence was accordingly determined upon. The robbery was committed late on Tuesday night and before Friday evening Murphy and Kelley found themselves arraigned, tried, convicted, and sentenced to the Penitentiary, the former for three years and the latter two. Sheriff Twilight, of Clatsop, arrived in this city on Saturday evening, having these parties in custody. Yesterday they took the morning train, and before two o'clock both were attired in suits of appropriate color and their names enrolled as fresh recruits of the Racoon Brigade. Murphy had not recovered from the effects of the late terrible pummeling he received at the hands of a sailor in Astoria, and his otherwise handsome (?) countenance presented a variegated appearance in which black and blue predominated. In a conversation with a police officer he swore that Astoria was the worst place he ever visited in all the course of his life. He said they didn't give an honest fellow any show at all to make a living, the difficulty being that they administered justice a little too rapidly. Murphy has cost this county hundreds of dollars but he will cease from troubling for the next three years, which ought to be a consoling reflection to the average tax payer.

DR LIVINGSTONE.

The announcement that Rev Dr Lindsley was to lecture upon the life and labors of the distinguished explorer whose name appears above sufficed to draw out an immense crowd who filled the First Presbyterian Church to its utmost capacity last evening. The discourse founded upon the text of Scripture, "Ethiopia shall stretch out her hands towards Thee" was peculiarly interesting on account of the reports lately received of the death of the man who has done more than all others to unfold the mysteries of that hitherto unknown region. The entire discourse evinced a thorough appreciation and deep study of the matter in hand, and presented many thoughts worthy the serious consideration of the Christian and philanthropist as well as the careful attention of the business and scientific world. The early history the industry perseverance devotedness and toils of the great Christian explorer were given in a most interesting manner and the results pictured in glowing colors that were to follow the promulgation of the great facts that Dr Livingstone first made known to mankind. The description of the vast and varied productions of the animal vegetable and mineral kingdoms in Africa was most beautiful, as the account of the degraded condition of the natives of that country, and the oppressions they have undergone were touching.

We hope to prepare a synopsis or publish the sermon in full very soon.

AMUSEMENTS.

As might have been expected the Skating Rink was well patronized last Saturday afternoon at the Masquerade given for the express benefit of school children. Every available seat in the Rink was occupied by spectators, and a large number appeared in masks on the floor. The occasion was decidedly profitable to the lessee Mr Plymale and enjoyable to the participants. The crowded condition of our columns precludes the list of the maskers and the characters assumed. In the evening the large building was again crowded with spectators and skaters. The principal attraction was the race which was announced to come off for a gold badge and the championship of the State. The distance was one mile and the competitor who made it in the quickest time was the winner. Two persons entered for the contest—Charles Meld and Geo Hill. Meld made the best time and consequently carried off the prize. The contest was lively and very exciting, and the [illegible] demonstration for the [illegible]

MONTHLY WEATHER REVIEW.

We have just received the Monthly Weather Review for the past month from the U S Signal Office, from which we make the following report:

During this month twelve storms of greater or less severity have prevailed along or within the borders of the United States. Of this number six have come from the southwest and the region of the Gulf of Mexico and six from the northwest and Upper Lake region. The most violent have come from the southwest and Gulf and have moved in every instance in a northeastwardly course, four of them keeping to the west of the Alleghany mountains, and two making their way on the eastern side of this range.

The paths of the storms which approached from the northwest lie in a southeaster [illegible] direction till the [illegible] they [illegible] meridian and then are deflected northeastwardly toward the St Lawrence valley and New England. In discussing these December storms it should be noted that the intensity of cyclonic action and the amount of barometric depression are strikingly connected with the [illegible] velocity of the former.

The second storm of the month was by far the most violent one which occurred. This extensive storm originated in Kansas on the morning of the 2d of December and progressed slowly toward Lake Michigan which it crossed on the morning of the 4th and thence moved over Lake Huron attended in its destructive course by winds, having velocities ranging from 15 to 60 miles per hour. Since 1841 (unless perhaps the gale of 1869 be excepted) no severer storm has been felt over the Lakes. Simultaneously, snow storms prevailed westward to California with unusual cold. It would, therefore appear that cold northerly winds passed in upon the rear of this cyclone and covered the whole of the trans Mississippi country. Indeed, the beginning of the widespread disturbance was premonished by a heavy rain storm December 1st at Yuma, and all along the Gila river on the night of that day, heavy condensation took place. This storm moved in a northeastward direction after passing over Lake Huron and hence it disappeared from beneath the Signal Service observations.

The observer at Cape May reported on the 19th of December at 6 P M in the southwest a flash of lightning which had the appearance of an explosion of a ball or bomb, also a great amount of sheet lightning. The observer at Pike's Peak among other interesting observations notes the peculiar effect of sunset in these words: "In the distance to the northeast a heavy mist was overhanging the plains. On this mist was depicted a perfect shadow and profile of our peak by means of the setting sun. The image is so realistic that one could hardly credit that it was merely a shadow, and not a lofty peak rising abruptly from the prairie. This continued for a space of fifteen minutes, when it gradually melted away in the mist, as the sun was setting behind the gigantic peaks of the 'Snowy Range.'" At Cape Henry, during the night of December 21st the brig Mary Rice from Rio Janeiro bound to Baltimore, was wrecked within sight of the new Coast Signal Station. The observer, by promptly telegraphing to Norfolk procured help and the entire cargo was secured and the ship saved. At Lexington Ky a 'Lunar Rainbow' with the prismatic colors, was seen on the night of the 1st. In the storm of the 4th at Toledo, the river was nearly emptied of water by the wind and buildings were damaged to the extent of $75,000. Aural displays have been rare during the month and very faint. A 'Mock Sun' was observed at St Paul, Minn on the 4th, and a beautiful "Parhelic circle" on the morning of the 29th. Much lightning and thunder were reported from the Upper Mississippi Valley, showing the presence of the great equatorial air-current.

The amount of fog which prevailed in the United States was very great and is probably due to the fact that neither the great equatorial nor the broad polar current has been established over the country, but rather both currents brought into juxtaposition on its eastern side.

In the latter part of November vast prairie fires occurred in the far West and several dust storms filling the air with fine and impalpable particles, which are known to remain suspended in the air for many days and sometimes are finally precipitated with water forming the celebrated "black rain."

The hail storm at Nashville on the 18th was so sudden in its approach that none suspected it and the streets were lined and thronged. The hail stones were about the size of almonds and generally very smooth and even in form, and covered the ground to a depth of an inch. The hail storm originated with a smooth sheet of stratus cloud, supplanting a low-moving scud, and a sudden shift of wind from south to northwest.

THE RIVERS.

It will be observed there was an extraordinary rise in the Mississippi at Cairo Memphis and Vicksburg from the 18th to the 29th of December. This was caused by the enormous floods in the Ohio and its tributaries from the 9th to the 18th ultimo, on which last named day, the Ohio was 44 feet 2 inches above the low water mark. It will be seen from the table that all the Western water courses have been full during the past month—a fact which gives promise for the next season's agricultural yield.

The excessive rains which found their way early in December to the upper Ohio were probably due to the projection of the cold polar current in the rear of the great storm already described. The cold current served to condense the vast floating reservoirs of vapor which the cyclone had drawn to its eastern side and front from the Gulf of Mexico.

COMPLIMENTARY TO CAPT. BOLLES.

The undersigned passengers on the steamer Ajax hereby tender to her gentlemanly commander, Capt Fred Bolles their sincere congratulations upon the trip just made from the Golden Gate to the Columbia Bar, in 48 hours as the "banner trip" and the "quickest time on record" and we also take pleasure in attesting our high appreciation of the skill and gentlemanly courtesy of the gallant master of the Ajax and all under him in contributing so largely and kindly to our comfort and pleasure during the trip begun Tuesday January 27th and ending Friday January 30 1874 at Portland Oregon.

COOS BAY ITEMS

Our attentive correspondent at Empire City sends the following in a letter bearing date of January 29th.

Coal shipment past week 400 tons; lumber 75 M feet.

There is but one man now enjoying the comforts (?) of the county jail.

Arrived since the 15th January, schooners Ivanhoe, L H Ramsdell and Dedalus, [illegible] sailed barkentine [illegible]

The competing steamers Satellit and [illegible] had a lively contest last week, the latter getting away with her opponent.

Capt Cussins, one of the residents on the bay, hailing this city in the [illegible] He was highly respected by all who knew him.

H H [illegible] has his commenced work on a small side wheel steamboat to run on the bay. Length of keel 70 feet and 14 feet beam.

Mr J W Sprague has gone to San Francisco where he hopes to gain some information in regard to the fate of the [illegible] and probable fate of his family.

The Escort arrived here from Empire City the [illegible] where she had been towing vessels over the bar. She towed the following vessels out to sea while there. The schooner [illegible] Emerald and the brig Orient on the 18th and the bark Webfoot on the [illegible] all loaded with lumber.

The schooner [illegible] Capt [illegible] Commanding, bound for Coos Bay from San Francisco was wrecked about six miles north of the bar on the morning of the 16th. She lies on the beach and there is little hope of saving her. She was regarded as a staunch vessel. She was insured for a small amount. The owners are Holcombe Terry & Co of San Francisco. No lives were lost.

A M Simpson & Bro have commenced work at their ship yard on a ship of about 1,400 tons which I think will be the largest vessel ever built on the Pacific coast. Her length of keel is 180 feet 41 feet beam and 21 feet hold with two decks. It is expected that she will be ready for sea about the 1st of next October. We are informed that she will be put in the grain trade between Portland and Liverpool.

VANCOUVER ITEMS

Notwithstanding the heavy rains of late the Columbia river is unusually low for the season of the year.

The mild weather for a few days past makes things more cheerful. People are arousing from their stupor forgetting their dyspeptic grumbling and preparing for spring work.

Rumor now has it that a prominent newspaper man of Oregon is negotiating for the Register material or an interest in the same, and that the paper will be revived in a few days.

The superior accommodations of the steamer Vancouver precludes the idea of a steam ferry across the Columbia and plank road to Portland. Although the matter is occasionally talked of it meets with but little favor.

Chaplain Van Horn is expected to deliver a lecture for the benefit of the Clark County Bible Society in a few days. The Executive Committee of the society are still investigating its affairs, which were supposed to have been settled some time ago. Important matters will undoubtedly be brought to light very soon.

WANTED TO BE HEARD FROM.

If anybody has ever used the thorough and scientific course of treatment recommended by the proprietor of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy for the cure of Catarrh and has not been perfectly cured the proprietor, Dr R V Pierce would like to hear from that person and by addressing him at the World's Dispensary, Buffalo N Y such person if there be one will hear of something to his or her advantage as the Doctor is in earnest when he offers $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he can not cure and is perfectly able to pay it if he fails in a single case as any one may ascertain upon enquiry. The thorough course of treatment referred to and recommended by Dr Pierce consists in the use of Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr Pierce's Nasal Douche which is the only means by which the fluid can be carried high up and applied to all parts of the nasal passages and the chambers connected therewith in which ulcers exist and from which the discharge proceeds. In addition to this thorough application of the Remedy, which should always be used warm, Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery should be taken earnestly as constitutional treatment without which few cases can be cured as the disease is always constitutional and must be treated accordingly. This treatment has no unpleasant features about it and has the advantage of never driving the disease to the lungs as there is danger of doing by the use of strong, irritating snuffs or poisonous solution.

PLAIN FACTS

FRANKFORT Mich Sept 13th, 1873

A year ago I had a bad cough from the Catarrh which had got in my throat. I tried a good many things but got nothing to do me any good until I used your Golden Medical Discovery and Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy. They cured me in three months for which I am very thankful. AMOS FISHER

THE SIAMESE TWINS

A New York dispatch of Jan. 2[illegible] says

A dispatch from Mount Airy, North Carolina, says Dr William Hollingsworth, who attended the Siamese Twins, is of the opinion that [illegible] Eng was not caused by any [illegible] connection of an artery passing from one to the other through the ligament that united [illegible] he believes there was no such vital [illegible] through the ligament because [illegible] attended the twins when one was [illegible] and the other in good health and when there was as much as twenty beats difference to the minute in their pulsation. The bodies, after being embalmed, were placed in [illegible] and encased in a large tin box which was soldered and made air tight. All was then put in a large wooden box and packed in charcoal and made secure, and placed in the cellar of the house. It is reported that they will be disposed of at an enormous price, to some museum or medical college or placed on exhibition [illegible] subject to the decision of [illegible] members of the family. The charge has been made that a veil of mystery has been thrown over the death of the twins, and that [illegible] of their decease is suppressed for [illegible] purpose of obtaining possession of the [illegible] the above stated object. A dispatch from Greensboro says Dr Jos Hollingsworth, [illegible] of the doctor who attended the twins [illegible] route for the North, stated that his mission was to dispose of the dead bodies of the twins on the most favorable terms he could negotiate. The sum asked for the privilege of a post mortem is stated at $8 000 to $10 000

Another dispatch says "A dispatch from Mount Airy, North Carolina, published here this morning gives an interesting conversation between the correspondent and Dr. Hollingsworth, who was the first physician to arrive at the residence of the Siamese Twins after their death. Hollingsworth does not believe Eng's death was caused by any vital connection or artery passing through the ligament connecting the twins. He does not believe in the existence of any vital connections. He has attended them frequently when one has been sick and the other in good health and often noticed two beats difference to the minute in pulsation. Eng's death was undoubtedly due to the shock and terror inspired by his union with Chang's dead body. An attempt to sever the ligament after Chang's death would only have hastened the death of Eng. Friends maintain that an artery was contained in the ligament and that after Chang's death the blood from Eng's body flowed into his but met with no response in the artery, and Eng died from exhaustion and loss of blood. Up to the time of Eng's death the ligament was quite warm to the point where it entered Chang's body. The ligament is four inches wide, as thick as a man's wrist, and runs from the abdomen of one to the other. The one navel of the twins is in its center. Meanwhile the bodies have been temporarily interred. It is said the relatives of the twins are negotiating to dispose of the dead bodies on profitable terms and are asking $8 000 or $10 000 for a post mortem examination

MARK TWAIN'S BUCKING HORSE

The talk of literary London just now is Mark Twain's account in his new lecture of the 'bucking' horse which he purchased in Nevada. It is impossible to put it on paper as half the effect produced by the story depends upon his manner of telling it. It would appear that before purchasing his steed he had no idea of what 'bucking' meant, but was too proud to ask for information. This, however he obtained through the discipline of experience. He mounted the horse. This animal then gathered its four feet in a bunch beneath it and by a sudden upward fling sent him (Twain) into the air—just one hundred and fifty yards. When the audience smiles at this Mark looks troubled at their incredulity but proceeds. From this ascent he returns, alights in the saddle, and the horse gives another fling—Mark going 150 yards in the air. He then tells his smiling audience that he judged it was that distance by the look of the steeples but confessed he did not go into details. This ascent being repeated he remembers while in the air, hearing some one on earth say 'He might have known that was a bucking horse,' upon which the fact flashed upon him. While he was absent the last time some one cut the horse, which started forward, and when he came down it was upon the ground. He could not say he regretted it. There was no reason for the horse remaining on his account. Friends gathered around him after his descent, as they always do when one wants to be let alone and asked if he wanted this or wanted that. What he really wanted was to sit down. He did so. He placed one hand on his head, another on his stomach and, indeed, thinks that if he had sixteen hands he could have found suitable places for their application. But as for the horse, he assures his audience, that this and its other antics—such as walking about on its hind feet with its thumbs under its arms, like a Lord Mayor—were all natural talent. The horse had been brought up in the wild West and had never had any advantage to develop these gifts. As I have said, the way in which this story is told is inimitable and, indeed the whole lecture is admitted to be one of the most unique pieces of grotesquerie ever known in these parts

A LEGEND OF THE DAKOTAS

This is a sacred stone, It is the door stone of the Twin Sisters lodge. The Twin Sisters are spirits that make the Dakota women beautiful, and teach them how to sew and to make bead and quill work. The spirits live under this stone, and they have written on it to say that it is sacred to them. The squaws come here, and bring offerings of paint, and beads, and needles, and ask the spirits to make them beautiful women and give them husbands, but if a brave touches the stone, his arm will grow weak, his blood will turn to water, and he will become a squaw. The Indians name this hill "Mato-ti" (bear's den,) for in Dakota mato is bear and ti is house. A long time ago, one Dakota was out hunting in the woods near this hill when he saw a very pretty squaw, and asked her to be his wife, but she said, 'No you marry a squaw among your people. My people are Bears and the Dakotas and the Bears are enemies.' But the Dakota was a good hunter and he always brought back to her cave in the hill, young tender buffalo meat, or the fattest elk, or the clearest, sweetest honey—of which she was very fond—and would not go away from her so by and by she said 'May be I'll be your squaw, if you promise not to kill my people, the Bears.' So the Dakota promised he never would draw his bow on any of her friends the Bears but always run away from them. So they were married, and lived happily some time in their cave in the hill, but one time the Dakota had been out hunting and killed nothing and was coming back tired and angry when just as he got near his home he saw a Bear run toward the door of the cave. He forgot about his promise to his squaw, and thinking only of her danger he fly an arrow. A fearful cry was the answer to the twang of his bow string and he rushed into the cave and found his arrow through his squaw's heart, and her bear skin, which had fallen off all covered with her life-blood. Sometimes the Dakotas see a Bear coming down to the spring at night, but they know it is her spirit, for it makes no shadow in the moonlight and leaves no foot print on the edge of the water.'—Overland Monthly for Febru[illegible]

SAULSBURY AND M'DOUGALL

They recall who have ever heard them Saulsbury and McDougall together, the latter defining in a wild illustrated poetic way the word government law or sovereign pouring upon it the wealth of his vagrant readings making a mere definition gorgeous by his endowments of color light and sentiment. Then Saulsbury shutting one eye to see him fairly would say with lachrymose pity

'McDougall you're the brightest satellite in the American Senate!'

Clutching Saulsbury with the grasp of a vice and speaking to him in a tone of solemn warning McDougall would retort

'You sir would be the brightest intellect if you would study'

At this Saulsbury in a maudlin way falls to weeping and McDougall imagining himself called upon in this case to utter a mild reproach would construct a garment of sanctity for himself

'I burn the lamp early and late' said McDougall. 'The rising sun sees me up already laboring with the muse of Homer [Sob from Saulsbury] I reach down the Koran at sun rise and read myself a sublime lesson, pilfered it is true from the benignant Brahma but little altered except in the vernacular. At 8 o'clock like Socrates I breakfast upon a fig and a cake of oatmeal. Wine never crosses these lips. Till 10 o'clock I roam in my gardens communing with the mighty Master of the Sadducees'

Exchange on [illegible]

[illegible] Liverpool [illegible]

From [illegible]

[illegible] of [illegible] payments [illegible] the [illegible] Eastern exchanges [illegible] the [illegible] the resumption of specie [illegible] New Jersey [illegible] sound in principle and would be [illegible] and impracticable if it became a law. It is called a bill to secure the resumption of specie payments without contracting the currency. The plan is to [illegible] $2[illegible] 000 000 of six per cent [illegible] fifty bonds [illegible] then for the purchase of gold. This gold [illegible] when enough is secured to redeem the legal tenders or greenbacks. And the legal tenders are to be contracted to $[illegible] 000 [illegible] the maximum and to be reduced as much more in volume as possible. So much for the plan. It proposes to suddenly increase the interest bearing debt of the Government $[illegible] 000 [illegible]—what for? That we may buy European gold with which to reduce the debt that does not bear interest may be reduced. That it would take considerable time to do this is clear but one thing it will do will be to add a very large sum, $15 000 000 to the current expenses of the Government besides the loss in negotiations. And what is worse it will serve to bind us more firmly than ever to the European money lenders. There are not $2[illegible] 000 000 of available gold in this country, and hence it must come from Europe, and the $15 500 000 be sent there to pay the annual interest the plan we fear would result as did Secretary Richardson's plan to secure silver currency. An exchange in an article on resumption reckons as an essential to its accomplishment the establishment of our ability to retain our gold in the country. We produce, say $60 000 000 of gold annually, but it goes to Europe to pay interest, and the balance against us in trade. We have imported more than we exported, till within a year. Consequently all our gold supply and more went to pay our adverse balances. It is not yet permanently determined that this will not again be so despite the favorable showing of the present year. But when once we can sell Europe more goods than we buy from her thus keeping our gold at home, we can readily commence to resume specie payments without borrowing. Our debt to Europe the interest of which must be met in gold is one of the reasons why we do not have specie payments and the Senator proposes to increase that debt. It is precisely parallel with the railroads that borrow money to pay dividends.

Another great desideratum in reaching specie payments is to confine our debts among our own citizens. The reason is obvious. Suppose we owe Europe $1 000 000 000. It will involve sending to Europe as interest, $60,000 000 annually—our entire Gold product. It must be palpable that if we send out of the country all the Gold our mines produce we can never reach a surplus with which to resume specie payments. Hence every dollar of increased debt contracted with Europe defers by just so much the time of resumption. With trade as it has been it is safe to say that specie payments could not be maintained on borrowed Gold. The interest and trade demands would exceed our Gold supply $50 000 000 or $60 000,000 a year. It has been so. Europe holds our Government and railroad bonds because we had not the Gold to send. Increase our debt and we place ourselves all the more in her power. There are enough debts due Europe to draw out all the Gold Senator Frelinghuysen proposes to borrow in a month. As our people could get the Gold, by simply offering the Government legal tenders, it can readily be seen how the drain could be made.

Industrial Developments at the West.

[From the Philadelphia North American

We read and hear so much of the immense increase of the crops in the West that most people fancy the West wholly given to agriculture and ignore the fact that its progress in manufactures is remarkable. The subjoined figures from the census, showing the manufactures of the West at two periods, will illustrate the rapid rise of this interest

	1860	1870
Arkansas	$ 2 880,78[illegible]	$ 4 629,[illegible]
Illinois	57 580,886	204 620 [illegible]
Indiana	42 803 469	108 61[illegible]
Iowa	13 971 32[illegible]	46 5[illegible]
Kansas	4,357 668	11 77[illegible]
Kentucky	[illegible] 240	[illegible]
Michigan	32 658 356	108 3[illegible] 770
Minnesota	3 373 172	[illegible] 110 700
Missouri	41 782 [illegible]	206 [illegible] 429
Ohio	121 691 148	269 [illegible]
Wisconsin	27 849 467	77 [illegible]

This progress would have appeared still greater had not the mining production which was included in the statement for 1860, been excluded from that of 1870. But as it stands this table will serve to show how great the industrial interest had become in 1870 and how much had been done to create a home market for western produce. Since that date the western industrial interests have made immense advance and though still far below the vast aggregates of New England and the Middle States it is a question whether they will long remain so.

For a long period that region devoted its attention to the primary industries such as result in the production of raw materials. But as wealth and population increased capital and enterprise have gone into the advanced lines, and at the present time the west makes locomotives, watches, woollen goods harness and many varieties of fine goods. That this progress must take away a large part of the market that the west has so long afforded for our own products is undeniable, though our industry has gone into the most advanced forms and competes with Europe in the most finished and superior articles. The important fact however is that the reliance of European manufactures upon the western trade is nearly ended. For while it is to the interest of the west to buy its own products there will be a diminishing disposition to patronize Europe as was so long the case when the choice lay between that and the seaboard products. One [illegible] of this increase of manufactures at the west must be the increase of wealth and active capital there. For a long period it has seemed as though the west were a sort of bottomless pit capable of swallowing up all the capital that could be poured into it without ever appearing to be full. But with the rise of railways and manufactures all this is changing. Wealth and active capital are manifestly increasing there so fast that the west is able to help itself to a much larger extent than is generally known. As it attains the great development to which we have referred above it will cease to be a debtor region to be constantly drained of its resources to pay interest on its accumulated obligations and gradually pay them off and become a creditor again

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco [illegible] in 18[illegible] for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal [illegible] such as Gonorrhoea [illegible] Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness [illegible] Skin Diseases of [illegible] and Ulcerated [illegible] treated

DR. GIBBON has [illegible] visiting the [illegible] of Europe [illegible] at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street [illegible] San Francisco where invalids [illegible] and those requiring [illegible] may find him [illegible] [illegible] the affected [illegible] man suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering in a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from [illegible] into the system [illegible] at the pale emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state in thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians [illegible] tend to those who are suffering with any of these terrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] cured before it be too late. Send them in ме[illegible] to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial [illegible] for years, and [illegible] to cure them [illegible] without mercury [illegible] It is important [illegible] who are afflicted [illegible] the welfare of [illegible] to be [illegible] in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness (and the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice or depravity is indulged in by [illegible] practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing [illegible] the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical means [illegible] sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence [illegible] in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue [illegible] breath, coughs, consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr Gibbon will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was [illegible] of this complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies [illegible] forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

Cured at Home

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr [illegible] stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in a registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications are [illegible] confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers [illegible]. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J. F GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 1 957, REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN 1y5d4p
